PIONEER JAMES FRANKLIN ANSWERS DEATH'S SUMMONS.

James Franklin, a county pioneer, aged 83 years, passed away at the Tremont House Monday night after a brief illness from pneumonia. The funeral was held Thursday at Cypress Lawn, the body being conveyed to that place by the 12-14 train.

James Franklin was one of the few old residents alive who were identified with the county's earliest days. He came here in 1856 and worked in the lumber mills in and about Searsville. He was industrious and economical and when old age came upon him he had saved enough to enable him to spend his declining years in comfort. He always made his headquarters at the Tremont, and for several years past had been a constant boarder at that wellknown hotel.

Franklin had never married. His nearest relations are cousins, residing in this county and at distant places.

Franklin was a native of Kings county, Ireland, and before coming to California he spent a few years in Canada where as a resident of Frampton, a small suburb of Quebec, he was engaged in farming. While he was in that place he was intimately known by James Doyle, the Menlo Park merchant. That was in the very early 50's. Mr. Doyle remembers the time Franklin started for California, lured hither by the gold excitement.

The deceased left a will of which his old friend Robert Brown is named as executor. His property consists mainly of money in bank, the only real estate being the 2000 bit tract in Cypress Lawn which he had long possessed, and wherein his body will rest.

Sequoia Will Try Opera.

The cast will be as follows: Sylvia, Miss Lucia Behrens; Betty, Miss Lucile Holden; farmers' daughters, Miss Loreta Bomberg, Miss Norma Jacobus, Miss Minnie Gould and Miss Fern Toothacher; Prince Tollytium (a man of consequence), Robert Fox; William, George Bettin; a farmer lad, Percy Smith. The leading male part will be taken by well known singer of San Francisco and the opera will be staged under the direction of Professor Otis M. Carrington. The chorus work will be given by the glee club of the high school.

Benefit Ball at San Mateo

The charity ball for the benefit of the homeless children of California to be given by the Sons and Daughters of San Mateo in the new Masonic hall Saturday night promises to be a great success. Members of the parlors from all over the county will attend.

CITY OFFICIAL PAPER

D. E. O'KEEFE, Editor and Proprietor

A long experience has proved that with P. P. Chamberlain as Treasurer the money of the county is always on hand when called for. The voters of the county must not permit of a change in this important office.

In Ambrose McSweeney, the nominee for Tax Collector, the north end of the county has a splendid representative on the Republican ticket, a man who will receive the almost unanimous vote of that section.

That Henry Ward Brown will be returned to the Assembly is a foregone conclusion. He has served his constituents well and faithfully and for the best interests of the county he should be sent back to the Assembly.

While Dr. Plymire received the unanimous endorsement of the Republican party, he was also given the Democratic nomination for Coroner by a very large majority and is consequently on both tickets. Of course he will be elected, as he well deserves.

Lafayette Gill, one of the most prominent Democrats in Riverside county, is coming out for Hiram W. Johnson for Governor says: "A vote for Johnson means a vote for the regeneration of the State". Two years ago, Mr. Gill was a Democratic Senatorial candidate in the 39th District.

That Sheriff Chatham has met the approval of the people in the conduct of his office is attested by the fact that no one in the Republican party would oppose his re-nomination. Assurances are also being given every day that he will receive a large share of the votes of the Democrats, among whom he has many friends and admirers.

The splendid majority given W. H. Underhill by his party at the time of the primary election notwithstanding the strong canvas of his opponent, is a splendid endorsement of his past administration of the Auditor's office. In November he will not only receive the united support of the Republicans, but it is predicted that he will distance his opponent in his own party.

Supervisors Hold Meetings

The board of supervisors met on Monday and held a short session. Donald MacKenzie requested that a carload of coal be purchased for the courthouse furnace. The request was referred to the supply committee.

James T. O'Keefe, representing the Menlo Park Highway Lighting District presented the necessary proof that an election had been held at Menlo Park, September 27th, at which 161 votes were cast, 145 of which were in favor of and 16 against the establishment of a lighting district at that place.

In accordance with the showing made by Mr. O'Keefe, a resolution was adopted on motion of Francis, seconded by McEvoy, declaring the result in favor of the affirmative and establishing the boundaries of the new district.

N. Martin of Halfmoon Bay was granted aid in the sum of $8 per month.

The following bids were opened grounds of the courthouse:

The joint quarterly report of the auditor and treasurer was read and ordered published.

The following class "A" liquor licenses were granted: John Mangial, Millbrae; C. Ettlin, Vista Grande; Mrs. C. Bracken, Colma; Harry E. Hallett, Portola; J. J. Walsh, Millbrae; John F. Barneberg, Colma; L. Peterson, San Bruno; J. Debenedetti, Halfmoon Bay; Edw. Ellis, Woodside; P. F. Flemming, San Pedro.

H. C. Tuchen presented a map of Valota Park, near Menlo Park and the same was accepted.

McEvoy was instructed to have drain pipes put in the courthouse grounds to carry off the surplus water. He was also directed to build two concrete culverts in his district. The County Surveyor was instructed to prepare plans and estimates for a bridge in the fourth township and another in the fifth township.

The county clerk was directed to advertise for bids for a concrete bridge at Hurling's in the fourth township. McEvoy was instructed to install a directory at the entrance of the courthouse for the use of the public.

The sheriff was empowered to equip his office with 4 rifles, 2 shot guns and six pistols.

Section seven of the county game law was repealed so that the open season for taking trout begins on April 1, the same as the state law, instead of May 1.

REMINISCENCES OF OUR PIONEER DAYS

Gleanings From the Records Left By Men Who Laid the Foundation of Our County.

As usual the election, held September 1st, 1876, resulted in a victory for the Republican ticket, practically all the way down the line. Apparently this result had been expected, and although the Democrats put up as good a fight as they could there was no bitterness in the campaign. The total vote of the county was 1592, indicating a healthy increase of population. In the county there were but two Democrats elected, these being J. H. Offermann for Treasurer and J. J. Hill for Assessor. The largest majority given for any candidate was for G. P. Hartley the Republican candidate for Superintendent of Schools, who beat J. C. Nash, his Democratic opponent by 545 votes.

On Thursday, August 26th, 1875, the city of San Francisco was the scene of one of the wildest and most unfortunate financial disasters in its history, one that was state-wide in its unfortunate effects, and which resulted in the self destruction of William C. Ralston, one of the best known and most public spirited of the wealthy citizens of San Mateo county. The failure of the Bank of California, at that time one of the best known and most highly regarded financial institutions of the state, came without warning and burst upon the people with all the horror of a great natural calamity. All most all day Thursday the bank had transacted business as usual, continuing in the ordinary course until just at halfpast 2 in the afternoon. As the hands of the clock pointed to the half hour, William C. Ralston, the president of the bank, walked from his private office into the rooms of the bank and gave orders to the astounded clerks to instantly cease business—neither to receive nor to pay out more money. Almost instantly news of the act spread to the streets and to the stock exchange and there followed a wild excitement that even to this day is remembered with a pang by the older residents of this county, as well as San Francisco and in fact the entire state.

As a matter of course a rush of the depositors of the bank immediately followed the discouraging news, and within a few moments the entrance to the bank was besieged by an angry mob, demanding their money. The effort was a vain one, as the instant the order was given by the president the coin in sight was swept into the vaults and these were locked. For a time there were angry threats and some danger of mob violence, but this was quelled by the presence of a force of police who were rushed to the scene and by the spread of a report that a regiment of troops had been ordered from the Presidio. As is usual the excitement spread to others interested elsewhere, and almost at the same time a run was started upon the Trust Company, whose bank was opposite the suspended institution. This however was of short duration, as the concern was entirely solvent and met all demands until the usual closing hour. On the following day there was some evidence of a run on all the other banks of the city but this was promptly met and was of short duration.

The saddest part of this unfortunate affair occurred on the next day, Friday. When the directors of the suspended bank met on Friday morning, one of their first acts was to demand the resignation of president Ralston. This request was immediately complied with and before noon the resignation was in the hands of the board. Shortly after 5 o'clock the same evening the lifeless body of Mr. Ralston was found floating in the bay. Of course this was accepted as positive indication of suicide, but although circumstances pointed strongly to this theory there were many friends who attributed the death to an accident while bathing, and even to this day some of the old residents still hold to this belief. The majority of the people, however, held strongly to the theory of suicide, believing that the man had been hounded to desperation by the attacks of the Bulletin and Call, both of which papers had long shown bitter enmity to Mr. Ralston, and serious threats of mob handling were made against Pickering and Fitch, the joint owners of the two papers.

Mr. Ralston at the time of his untimely death was just in the prime of his manhood and the full flush of a well earned prosperity. He was a native of Ohio and about 49 years of age. Coming to this State some 20 years before this time, he was then a poor man and practically inexperienced in business. Grit and dare and a small amount of foresight were the chief foundations of a fortunate career in those days, and it was not long until the young man began to lay the foundation of the fortune which he soon accumulated. He was the head and front of the Bank of California, and it was largely due to his daring financial management that this institution took its place as a leader in the finances of the state.

In the early days of his success Mr. Ralston chose San Mateo County as his home, selecting a splendid residence site in the vicinity of Belmont. Here he erected an elegant mansion for his family. Naturally a leader, he took a great interest in the affairs of the county. He was a leading contributor to many of its most cherished institutions, and his untimely death was the cause of genuine regret among its people.

Here are two more birth notices from the columns of the Gazette of October 30th that may prove of interest to some people yet in Redwood City: "Born, at Swift's ranch, October 12th, 1875, to the wife of Theodore Swift, a daughter." And "Born, in Redwood City, October 15th, 1875, to the wife of J. W. Glennan, a son." And here is another indication that all the people of Redwood City were not slow: "Born, in Redwood City, November 6th, 1875, to the wife of Thomas Kearse, twin daughters."

NEW CALIFORNIANS, ATTENTION!

If you are a Californian, newly arrived in this State, you can assist in the effort to bring to the Pacific Coast the Panama-Pacific International Exposition in 1915. Get the spirit of "Post Card Week" and have your Eastern friends and acquaintances and relatives join with you in a postal bombardment of the Congressmen or Congressmen most likely to give attention to your appeal. When San Francisco wins you will have the satisfaction of having contributed materially to the result.

A Lively Contest.
San Francisco and New Orleans are engaged in a lively contest for the proposed Panama-Pacific International Exposition of 1915. The California Legislature was convened in special session to authorize $10,000,000 for the enterprise. The citizens of San Francisco have raised $7,500,000 on the side, giving them a total of $17,500,000 to bid, with more in sight if necessary. New Orleans has up to date secured pledges for but $7,500,000 to finance the exposition. Both cities are putting up a good fight and it demonstrates the remarkable civic spirit of both. May the best man win. — Pittsburg Post.

In acting promptly and as a unit the citizens of San Francisco and the people of California show the energy and spirit which would naturally entitle them to the award of an exposition of progress such as that of 1915 promises to be.—Spokesman-Review.

Every Californian Will Work For Panama-Pacific Exposition

Following the appointment of OCTOBER 10-17 as POST CARD WEEK, the Special Post Card Committee of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition announces the plan of campaign.

Letters have been dispatched to every commercial body in California asking that a central committee be appointed by each to take local charge of POST CARD WEEK; and tonight many representatives of the exposition company leave San Francisco to make a round of the State to assist in organizing such central committees. It has been suggested that the women's clubs, the schools, the Native Sons and other fraternal organizations work under the direction of and in conjunction with each local central committee.

An exceedingly artistic design has been accepted for the official post cards. They will bear the Panama-Pacific Exposition seal, and read

Get your Congressman To vote for the PANAMA-PACIFIC INTERNATIONAL EXPOSITION at the EXPOSITION CITY, SAN FRANCISCO, 1915.

California will Give an Exposition That Will Be a Credit to the Nation.

In each city, town and hamlet of California, a supply of these cards, which will be printed by the million, will be on sale. They will be there several days before the beginning of POST CARD WEEK, the places of sale to be announced through each local central committee. Every Californian who can write is expected to dispatch out of the State at least five of these official cards. All business and social letters sent out during POST CARD WEEK should contain reference to San Francisco and the exposition.

The time for sending out these appeals has purposely been restricted within the confines of one week, in the expectation that such an overwhelming flood of cards will simultaneously descend upon the country that congressmen will be started into a realization that California has an immense organization of compelling power, the influence of which is not to be despised.

Beside the special cards issued by the Exposition, the post card companies are printing upon their own responsibility cards bearing California scenes and slogans. They intend flooding all their California agencies with the cards in ample supply for sale during POST CARD WEEK.

BOOSTERS GET BUSY

Write to Congressional Friends to Work for San Francisco.

GET YOUR CONGRESSMAN TO VOTE FOR SAN FRANCISCO-1915

At the head of this editorial we run the trade mark of the Panama-Pacific Exposition Company, which is handling the arrangements to have San Francisco selected as the site for the proposed Panama-Pacific Exposition to be held in 1915 to commemorate the completion of the Panama canal in that year. Among other things the trade mark says: "Get your congressman to vote for San Francisco, 1915."

We have no reason for appealing to our congressman, for William F. Enright is one of the enthusiastic boosters for San Francisco. But it is probable that many of our readers who have come from the East, South and Middle West to settle have congressmen whom they know and to whom they could write with great effectiveness. If there are any such it is their duty to obey the admonition contained in the trade mark of the exposition company of San Francisco.

It would make us ridiculous in the eyes of the world if we reject the proposition to bond the State for $5,000,000. For years we have boasted being the most progressive commonwealth in the Union. We have advertised this fact, and now some of our narrow-sighted but well-meaning contemporaries would throw back the moving hands of progress and put us in the column of dead and forgotten States. It must not be. California must maintain her prestige and vote for bonds for the proposed exposition. — Nevada City Miner-Transcript.

Gloom in New Orleans. It is said that New Orleans is gloomy over the census figures, as these may tend to injure her chances for the Panama exposition. She need not worry so much over the census returns as over San Francisco's postcard campaign, which is to be launched in a few days. — San Jose Times.

Leigh Hunt's Grave. In the serene silence of Kensal Green cemetery, London, Leigh Hunt's body lies at rest. A visitor, reaching over the iron fence to part the fragrant shrubs that shadow the tombstone, reads these words: "Write me as one who loves his fellow men." It was his own cheerful philosophy of life that Leigh Hunt expressed through the lips of his Abou Ben Adhem, and the sentiment is very touching come upon in this way.

5 Strong Reasons for Fall Painting

1. The wood is thoroughly dry. Summer's sun has removed all moisture.
2. Paint penetrates deeper into dry wood. The deeper it goes the better it holds.
3. Fall weather is warm, dry and dependable. Little danger of cold, damp, rainy days, which endanger the durability of the paint.
4. Wet weather decays and destroys unprotected surfaces. Lack of paint means unsightly and less valuable property.
5. Fall painting keeps out winter moisture. The greatest enemy to the life and beauty of all structures.

CITY COUNCIL IN REGULAR MEETING

Illness of Trustee Hynding is Cause of Postponement of Improvement Plans.

Last Monday evening's session of the city council was another extremely short one, largely due to the absence of Trustee Hynding, who was indisposed. To a very large extent the plans for the proposed street improvements have been left to his supervision, and in his absence the other trustees did not feel like taking decisive action. At the same time regret was expressed at the necessity for delay, as it is the unanimous opinion of the council that the work must be commenced at the earliest possible moment. As soon as Trustee Hynding is able to give his work his attention again the preliminary arrangements will be pushed to completion. Chairman Merrill stated that after investigation he had become satisfied that the proposed macadam as proposed by Trustee Hynding would prove a satisfactory and economical pavement for the residence districts and that he would now favor its general use. Others of the trustees concurred in this opinion.

An emphatic stand was taken against the digging up of the newly improved streets for the purpose of laying gas pipes was taken up. The matter came on for consideration of a petition for this privilege submitted by Manager Newell of the United Gas and Electric Co. One of these asked for the privilege of opening Fulton street from Whipple to Hopkins avenue. This street is one of those recently finished in the Dinegar Park improvement. After some discussion it was decided that no permits should be given for the opening of improved streets for this purpose, and the permit asked for was confined to the right to use the park portions of the sidewalks. Under this ruling the gas company will be compelled to lay their pipes on each side of the street just within the curb. By so doing the necessity of disturbing the street when making house connections will be obviated. A permit to run on Hopkins avenue from Hudson to Jeter was granted.

The work of Hess, McGarvey & Kreiss in the sub-grading of Grand, Hudson, Iris, Jeter and King streets was accepted and their claim of $1156.65 for the work was allowed. The petition of the same firm for the acceptance of the macadamizing of Fulton street and Brewster avenue was continued for hearing until the next meeting.

City Attorney Mahsfeld presented a deed from the Tacoma Lumber Co. for the right of way for the extension of East Bradford street to the new bridge. The deed was accepted and on motion of Trustee Sampson a resolution was adopted tendering to the company the thanks of the council for this donation and for the lumber donated for the new bridge.

A vote of thanks was also extended to the S. H. Frank Company and to William Holder for donations of right of way for approaches to the bridge on the east side of the creek.

Hess, McGarvey & Kreiss petitioned for the acceptance of the sub-grading of Lowell, Myrtle and Nevada streets, and the macadamizing of Grand, Hudson, Iris, Jeter and King streets in District 14. The hearing of the petition was set for October 17th.

Chairman Merrill reported that he had been conferring with the water experts with a view to an examination of the pipes of the city system and had learned that the expense of a complete investigation would be not less than $500, which he considered too large a sum for the purpose intended, and suggested that all mean within the power of the city of this should first be exerted to determine the sources of loss which were resulting in a monthly deficit from the system. As a preliminary to this he urged that steps be taken to definitely ascertain the amount of water used for public purposes, such as the supply of public buildings and the sprinkling of streets and irrigation of parks. This brought out the information that no meters were attached to the water meters of the school buildings and the suggestion from city electrician Werder that there was some reckless use of water at these institutions, especially in the way of irrigation. As a means of determining this it is probable that meters will be placed in the buildings.

Maps of the new subdivisions filed by the Moxey Realty Company were approved.

Dr. Ross, who was present as the representative of the Board of Health, reported that a recent investigation of the living quarters of the railroad laborers at work in the city had been inspected by himself and Dr. Taggart and that as a rule they had been found to be in a good condition, but some fault was found with the quarters of the gang of Greeks laborers, but the board had been assured by the foreman that this would be remedied and steps to that end had already been taken.

Dr. Ross also asked the council to, if possible, take some action to assist in inducing the United Gas and Electric Company to run gas mains on Phelps street to the new hospital, explaining that as this was in a large measure a public institution that would be a material benefit to the people of the city it should be shown some liberal treatment. It was shown that the extension would require a new main of considerable length and that under the state laws the council was powerless to compel the work. At the same time the trustees indicated that they believed that in justice the extension should be made and regretted its inability to render the desired assistance.

There will probably be no special the regular session as when adjournment was taken it was without a special date.

Forty Hours Devotion
The forty hours devotion in honor of the Blessed Sacrament will begin in Mount Carmel church next Sunday with solemn high mass at 10:30 o'clock. There will be a procession after mass. In the evening the Rev. Father J.W. Sullivan of St. Patrick's seminary will preach and on Monday evening the Rev. Father Myers will preach. Mass on Monday will be at 8 o'clock and on Tuesday at 9 o'clock.

SAN MATEO TEACHERS IN ANNUAL CONVENTION

After a couple of years' meeting with the teachers of other counties in San Francisco, the institute of the teachers of the county was held in this city this year. The opening session took place in the assembly hall of the high school. It was the fifty-fourth annual gathering of teachers and contained one hundred and twenty-two teachers from our primary, grammar and high schools. They presented an intelligent looking appearance and in all respects gave evidence that the year people who keep up with the times, being so wide awake that there is no doubt but what the children of the county have high class leaders who will give them a good education. All of them were very attentive to their work at the institute, at all times being present and ready to do all that could be done to help the good work along.

According to law the county superintendent is the presiding officer of the institute and Mr. Cloud made an excellent chair. The secretary was Mr. G. C. Clark and his assistants were Miss Florine Hart and Miss Clara J. Arg.

The committee on music consisted of Prof. O. M. Carrington and in all ways it proved himself deserving of the honor that was assigned him. He sang sweet songs, played delightful airs, and with short descriptions added a more vivid inter in his selections. One of his parts particularly distinguished himself in her examples of instrumental execution. Each session was opened with music of some kind. Among those who helped were Miss Gertrude Beeger, Miss Frank Jennings, Miss Vera Emerson, and the Stanford Glee and Mandoline Club.

There were many helpful lectures during the session by Dr. R. Jones of the San Francisco Normal School, Miss Edna Rich of the Santa Barbara Domestic Science School, James E. Addicot of the Oakland schools, Rev. Chas. R. Brown of Oakland, L. E. Armstrong of the State Teachers' Association, who succeeded in getting 101 subscriptions for the Sierra Journal at $1 a piece. This gives the teachers' membership in the State Organization and gives them recognition at its meetings and also shows that they appreciate the good work which has been done in their behalf. The famous debate of the institute was on the subject "Resolved that grammar be dropped." The affirmative was upheld by George W. Hall of San Mateo and the negative by W. J. Savage of Colma. Each one made a great effort and had many warm supporters. The inclination of the institute was to drop technical grammar but all the necessary parts of it were saved.

A feature of the institute was a writing lesson conducted by Miss Elizabeth Lawrence of the Jefferson school. She showed by means of a class of eight pupils how success might be achieved in the subject of penmanship. The work of the children in this line was indeed remarkable. The social evening under the auspices of the Bachelors' Club for the entertainment of the teachers was a very delightful affair. The program of the Mandolin and Glee Club was all very interesting and the young and the old teachers danced with vim until midnight. The young men of Redwood City were very good to them. The members of the committee certainly attended to their work.

As a whole the institute was a great success, both socially and educationally, and it puts a feather of distinction in Superintendent Cloud's cap of reputation.

By vote it was suggested that the next institute be held in San Mateo.

There will be a big Republican rally at San Mateo this evening. Mr. Hiram Jens was a student of the Sequoia Union High School, and after the last Christmas vacation, with regret he put aside his books and began a brave fight for his life with a disease that seldom is shaken off. His sister, Miss Anna Jens had graduated from Sequoia in 1906, and it was natural that he should enter it as a student. A Credit to any City

With the new opera chairs and the inside decorations completed, the Bell theatre is the subject of much favorable comment, and is indeed a credit to any city in the state. The opera chairs are new and comfortable and a quality far ahead of the chairs usually installed in moving picture houses. With the walls artistically finished the effect is most pleasing to the eye and the management is to be congratulated upon their good taste and enterprise. The pictures not only keep up the usual standard, but several that were exhibited during the last few evenings were of unusual merit.
